

Preparing the Application

FIRST STEPS

- Planning ahead—Advance planning will give the scholar as much time as possible to put together a thoughtful and compelling application. Applicant review and final selection are based upon the actual application and accompanying materials. U.S. affiliations are also based on the application and accompanying project statement.
- Consulting with colleagues—Applicants are encouraged to consult with current or former Fulbright Scholars from their own countries or the United States. Fulbright alumni and current participants can provide valuable guidance in formulating a competitive project statement.

GENERAL APPLICATION GUIDELINES

- At the time of application, you must submit the following: (a) application form; (b) detailed project statement; (c) detailed curriculum vitae; (d) letter of invitation; (e) three letters of reference.
- To ensure correct completion of the application, read carefully the detailed instructions provided in these guidelines.
- All items must be in English.
- The entire application must be typed or computer-generated. Use 10-point or larger type on all parts of the application. Handwritten applications will not be accepted.
- Responses to questions on the four-page application must fit on the pages on which the questions originally appear. Do not attach additional pages to answer these questions.
- If using an electronic version of the application, do not change the format of the forms, the pagination, the fonts or the type size.
- Proofread the entire application before submitting it to the local Fulbright agency. The application should be free of grammatical and spelling errors.
- Treat the application as a unitary whole, with all parts reinforcing the project statement. The flow should be orderly: the candidate's capabilities are listed in the application, further documented in the curriculum vitae and confirmed in the references. Use the project statement to make the parts interact by referring to items in the curriculum vitae or research bibliography. Without being redundant or simplistic, you should make it easier for the reviewer to find the key pieces of information you wish to convey.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING THE APPLICATION FORM

Please read the instructions carefully before completing each item.

Item 4. Full Name

- Give your name exactly as it appears on your passport. This spelling will be used on all documents related to your grant.

- Limit your list to a maximum of five accomplishments and publications that can be listed within the space provided. Do not attach additional pages.
- For space consideration, separate each item with a semicolon or number rather than a hard return.

- This abstract is meant to serve as a brief summary of the more detailed project statement.

Indicate your personal assessment of your level of competence in English.

Section C

Item 5. Alternate Funding

- Please list all non-Fulbright funding you expect to receive during your grant (sabbatical funding or other paid leave from your university, other grants, etc.). Please list funding amounts in U.S. dollars and attach supporting documentation.

THE PROJECT STATEMENT

The project statement is the most important component of the Fulbright application. Scholars with the most compelling, theoretically sound, well-written, feasible proposals are generally recommended for awards. Sometimes those with outstanding professional achievements assume that a brief, general project statement will be sufficient. It is not. To ensure a competitive application, your proposed project, as well as the strategy for completing it, should be thoroughly explained in three to five single-sided pages. Submit a typed, detailed project statement of no more than five single-spaced pages (3,500 words) on plain, white paper with each page numbered. In addition, attach a select bibliography of no more than three pages (2,100 words), if appropriate, to your proposed research.

Format

- The project statement itself must be three to five single-spaced typed pages. Do not exceed the page limit of the proposal. Including irrelevant or extraneous material may divert attention from the project statement.
- Begin the project statement with your name, country and the project title at the top of page one. At the top of each subsequent page, type your name and country.
- Organize your proposal in order of the following points, which appear in bold print, and use them as headings for sections of text in your statement.

FOLLOW THESE GUIDELINES FOR WRITING YOUR PROJECT STATEMENT:

Background: Introduce the research topic. Place the project in academic or professional context by referring to major works by others on the subject.

Objectives: Clearly define the aims of the project.

Methodology: Describe the project. Explain the approach, methods and plan you will use (for example, interviews, library or archival research or laboratory experiments). Indicate whether the proposed research is quantitative or qualitative.

Significance: Explain the importance of the project for the field, your home country and your own professional development.

Evaluation and Dissemination: Describe plans for assessment and distribution of research results in your home country and elsewhere.

Justification for Residence in the United States for the Proposed Project: Indicate why it is necessary for the accomplishment of the project to conduct research in the United States.

Duration: Explain how the project can be completed within the time period proposed.

Bibliography: Provide a list of one to three pages of the most relevant sources of information to your proposed research proposal.

Other: If applicable, indicate the quantity, format and transportation requirements for any botanical, zoological or mineral samples that you will need to bring to the United States for analysis.

SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS

Letters of Invitation

- Letters of invitation should be typed on institutional letterhead and signed. E-mail invitations are not sufficient.
- Invitations do not ensure selection for an award.

REFERENCES

- Choose your references carefully and contact them early. The letters of recommendation need to accompany the application as it could otherwise be weakened by an insufficient number of references.

- Do not ask someone for a letter of reference unless the person is well acquainted with your qualifications. A pro forma letter from a well-known scholar, a contact abroad or a prominent government official will carry less weight than a realistic assessment of your abilities from someone who knows you and your work well.
- References must be written in or translated into English.
- Reference letters should be attached to the report forms provided for this purpose and should be sent by the evaluators directly to the applicants.
